

Welcome to the English Department!

Sixty faculty members with Master's or Doctorate degrees in English or closely related fields teach in our department. We offer approximately 20 sections of developmental writing and reading courses, 45 of transfer level writing, and 10 of literature each quarter. We also offer online and hybrid courses and participate in interdisciplinary and linked courses each quarter.

Courses

- Introductory College Reading and Writing I Credits: 10
- Improving Reading Skills Reading Lab Credits: 2
- Preparation for College Reading Credits: 5
- Basic Grammar & Sentence Patterns Credits: 5
- Introductory College Reading and Writing II Credits: 5
- ELL Introductory College Reading and Writing II Credits: 5
 - This course is tailored to the skills and needs of English language learners (ELL) who require more practice with essay reading, writing and editing before taking English 101. Students improve English skills through writing assignments based on college-level readings. Prerequisite: Placement by assessment.
- Grammar & Communication Credits: 5
- Critical Reading in the Humanities Credits: 5
- The Film as Literature Credits: 5
- Critical Reading in the Humanities Lab Credits: 2